(For APX radios) In Android's market place, choosing APX radio as the "search" and "radio" types programs the radio for its exact model, the manual says that it is a programming program for APX radios. It appears to be a new program version so I would not expect my phone to work. Here is a response I got from Motorola. I have tested this as well and did not have any luck. I wanted to see if it would be possible to attempt anyway. Was this program offered by direct sales? I was told they are not able to help with this type of request. I have tried calling their sales department and they are telling me I need to visit their website which is not helpful, they do not want to provide the software. They do not have a phone number on the website or a way to pay by phone. Is there a way to receive a response? Is it a legal request? Here is the link that the quote is referencing from.
